CHRIS SELAK AND MICROSOFT TO BE HONORED AT THE HELP GROUP’S TEDDY BEAR BALL
Tuesday, March 20th, 2018 at The Beverly Hilton

The Help Group is pleased to announce that Chris Selak, Executive Vice President and Head of Worldwide Scripted Television at Lionsgate, will be the recipient of its 2018 Help Humanitarian Award for her wonderful humanitarian spirit and commitment to giving back. As a parent of a child on the autism spectrum, Chris understands how important it is for children to have access to opportunities that enable them to realize their fullest potential.

That same evening, The Help Group will present its Corporate Philanthropy Award to Microsoft. Celeste Alleyne, Director, US Citizenship & Public Affairs, Microsoft, will accept the award on Microsoft’s behalf. Celeste has been a strong voice in support of our young people, and The Help Group’s efforts on their behalf.

Both awards will be presented at the 20th Annual Teddy Bear Ball on Tuesday, March 20th at The Beverly Hilton Hotel International Ballroom.

Chris is a media veteran who has shepherded several critically acclaimed and award-winning shows through development to series for Lionsgate including the ground-breaking Orange is the New Black for Netflix; the fan favorite Nashville on CMT and Hulu; the hit drama series The Royals for E!; and the Golden Globe® nominated Casual for Hulu.

Building on Lionsgate’s legacy of iconic series, Chris has also expanded Lionsgate output, scope and range of scripted programming. This includes the breakout success Greenleaf for OWN, the critically-acclaimed Dear White People for Netflix, the political comedy Graves for EPIX, Nightcap for POP, the 3-hour special event Dirty Dancing for ABC, Manhunt: Unabomber for Discovery Channel, White Famous for Showtime, and Step Up for YouTube Red.

Microsoft will be recognized for its dedication to helping young people with special needs achieve their dreams by providing grants that increase their access to technology and help them acquire skillsets relevant to the 21st century workplace. To date, Microsoft has awarded The Help Group four generous product grants valued at $2,400,000. The most recent product grant awarded – Youth Achieving More Through the Power of Technology – promotes student digital literacy, learning, achievement and preparation for post-secondary education or vocational workplace opportunities.

Through its philanthropic initiatives, Microsoft has opened new doors of opportunity for our young people – especially in the areas of computer science and STEM. The Help Group is proud to be a member of Microsoft’s global community.

The Teddy Bear Ball is attended by several hundred prominent entertainment and community leaders. This annual gala is a celebration of the beauty and potential of the children whose lives are touched by the spirit of giving that is at the heart of the Teddy Bear Ball.

A MESSAGE TO OUR FRIENDS

We’re delighted to share this winter edition of the HelpLine with you. Here are a few highlights of our Help Group happenings.

At this year’s Teddy Bear Ball on March 20th, we will present our Help Humanitarian Award to Chris Selak, Executive Vice President and Head of World Wide Scripted Television at Lionsgate. We will present our Corporate Philanthropy Award to Microsoft.

Our 26th Annual Keyes for Kids Teddy Bear Golf Classic on September 25th honoring Jay Borzi was a record-breaking, over-the-top success. We thank all involved for their tremendous commitment, energy and support.

Throughout the month of December, our longstanding philanthropic partner, The Coffee Bean & Tea Leaf®, hosted its annual Holiday Giving Campaign in support of our children. And, on December 9th, our Holiday Carnival brought the joy of the season to hundreds of families in need.

The Help Group held its 21st Annual Summit on Autism, Learning Disabilities, and ADHD at the Skirball Cultural Center in October. The conference convened 25 of our nation’s leading experts to present their latest research and clinical expertise to nearly 500 parents and professionals.

In November, fine-art photographer and physician, Dr. Richard Ehrlich and Dr. Barbara Firestone, presented their book – Faces of Promise: Looking Beyond Autism – at the UCLA/LACMA Conference On Art, Neuroscience, and Psychiatry.

We are most grateful to our community of friends whose spirit of philanthropy touches the lives of so many children whom we serve each year.

Best regards,

Gary H. Carmona ~ Dr. Barbara Firestone

The Help Group’s 26th Annual Keyes for Kids Teddy Bear Golf Classic honoring Jay Borzi was held on September 25th at the Valencia Country Club. The event was truly an over-the-top, record-breaking success.

After a fantastic day on the greens, The Help Group presented the Help Fore Children Humanitarian Award to Jay at the Lockton Insurance Awards Reception in recognition of his remarkable commitment to giving back. Jay serves as Senior Managing Director of Eastdil Secured and has had an outstanding career as a successful commercial real estate investment broker. He and his wife Carol have such a tremendous spirit of philanthropy, which is an important family value.

This year’s Co-Chairs included Phil Belling, Managing Principal and Co-Founder of LBA Realty; John Brady, Managing Director & Portfolio Manager for Oaktree Capital Management and 2013 Golf honoree; Victor Coleman, Chairman & CEO and 2002 Golf honoree, Hudson Pacific Properties; Warren de Haan, Founder & Managing Partner, Acore Capital; Jonathan Firestone, Managing Director, Eastdil Secured; Michael Hackman, Founder & CEO, Hackman Capital; Jonathan Klein, Managing Director at Fortress Investment Group; Michael May, Senior Managing Director at CCRE and 2015 Golf honoree; Michael Rosenfeld, Founder & CEO of Woodridge Capital Partners and 2011 Golf honoree; Michael Tenenbaum, Vice President of Keyes Automotive Group & Help Group Board Executive Vice Chair; Howard Tenenbaum, Vice President of Keyes Automotive Group & Help Group Board Executive Vice Chair; Michael Van Konyenburg, President, Eastdil Secured and 2006 Golf honoree, and Jeffrey Worthe, President, Worthe Real Estate Group.
Gary H. Carmona, Chairman of the Board, and Dr. Barbara Firestone, Help Group President & CEO, commemorated the reception with opening remarks. Jesse Sharf joined the stage to help emcee the program and introduce The Help Group Choir.

After the choir’s special performance, Jesse welcomed Michael Hackman to the podium to lead a fun and spirited auction with items generously donated by AJ Capital Partners, Jeff Worthe of Worth Real Estate Group, Jay Borzi, and Keyes Automotive Group.

Golf Classic Chair, Jonathan Firestone, and Warren de Haan, the 2016 Help Fore Children Humanitarian Award recipient, welcomed Jay to the stage to honor his humanitarian spirit. Jonathan congratulated his longtime friend, mentor, and colleague, and spoke fondly of Jay’s enduring commitment to helping young people with special needs realize their potential.

In his acceptance remarks, Jay thanked The Help Group for the honor, as well as his family, friends, and colleagues for all of their support.

Jay shared, “It was an incredible experience to visit The Help Group’s campus. It’s an amazing place that makes a difference every day for so many kids.”

Dr. Firestone thanked Jay for having such a special place in his heart for the children and families of The Help Group, and announced the naming of the Borzi Family Conference Center at The Help Group’s Sherman Oaks campus.

“We salute Jay for his commitment to caring and for being a friend to our children and to our organization. On behalf of The Help Group and the families we serve, I want to thank you,” said Dr. Firestone.

Our many thanks and appreciation to the Borzi Family, Keyes Automotive Group, Lockton Insurance, our golf chairs, sponsors and donors who helped make the 26th annual Golf Classic an unforgettable day.
Highly acclaimed fine art photographer and physician, Dr. Richard Ehrlich and Dr. Barbara Firestone presented their collaboration, Faces of Promise: Looking Beyond Autism, at the The UCLA Conference on Art, Neuroscience, Psychiatry – a joint initiative of The Semel Institute at UCLA and LACMA. The conference took place November 9 – 11 at the UCLA Luskin Conference Center and brought together a transdisciplinary faculty of neuroscientists, artists, academics, and psychiatrists for dialogue exploring contemporary social issues and science/art collaboration.

Faces of Promise, a beautifully designed photo essay book, was presented during the Art and Autism symposium. Faces of Promise had its beginnings when Dr. Ehrlich approached Dr. Firestone with an idea to contribute to the acceptance of children with autism through his photography. Utilizing large-format Polaroid and digital photography he captured, in portraiture, the essence and beauty of these children.

Dr. Firestone shared, “We decided that this book should include young people across the spectrum, from preschool to young adulthood, whose families are from all walks of life and are culturally and ethnically diverse. I suggested to Rick that, in addition to his photographs, it would be meaningful to accompany the images with thoughts from the parents, and sometimes from the young people themselves.”

To conclude the presentation, video excerpts of one of the parent interviews was shown. A mother poignantly spoke about the dignity and promise of her child that reflected the message at the heart of Faces of Promise.

Dr. Ehrlich and Dr. Firestone thank conference Co-Chairs, Dr. Andrew Leuchter, Professor in the Department of Psychiatry and Biobehavioral Science, Director of the Neuromodulation Division, and Senior Research Scientist at the Semel Institute at UCLA, and Dr. Britt Salvesen, Department Head and Curator, Wallis Annenberg Photography Department and the Department of Prints and Drawings, LACMA, for the opportunity to participate in such an informative and thought-provoking conference.
Dr. Barbara Firestone and Dr. Richard Ehrlich signed copies of their book Faces of Promise: Looking Beyond Autism at Classic Photographs Los Angeles on Sunday, February 4th at the Rose Gallery - Bergamot Art Center in Santa Monica.

Faces of Promise, widely recognized as a “masterwork” and recipient of numerous accolades, was met with enthusiasm by gallery attendees for its beautiful photographs and poignant reflections highlighting the promise of young people on the autism spectrum.

Over the past nine years, Classic Photographs Los Angeles has established itself as the premier west coast destination for discovering and buying the best in vintage, modern and contemporary photography. Exhibitors at Classic Photographs Los Angeles are internationally known for the quality of work they present, as well as their expertise. The works span the history of photography. The open camaraderie between exhibitors, collectors, curators, educators and students, all part of a vibrant community of photo enthusiasts, was welcoming to all.

"It was a pleasure for Rose Gallery to host the Faces of Promise book signing. The powerful portraits by Dr. Richard Ehrlich convey such a strong range of emotions, and when paired with the texts and work by Dr. Barbara Firestone, the children’s stories come to life," said Rose Shoshana of Rose Gallery.

“Our thanks to Rose Shoshana for hosting such a wonderful afternoon. Rick and I are so grateful to her for sharing the message of Faces of Promise with the thriving Los Angeles arts community,” said Dr. Firestone.

Here are a few brief excerpts of praise for Faces of Promise

“This inspiring reflection and deeply moving book is a work of art that reveals the beauty and diversity of our humanity.”
Louis A. Vismara, MD - UC Davis MIND Institute Co-Founder, Autism Advocate & Parent

“By looking beyond the stereotypes often associated with the autistic spectrum, it reveals with exquisite imagery and prose, the beauty and challenge that is life itself.”
Peter C. Whybrow, MD - Director, UCLA Semel Institute

“This extraordinary volume is breathtaking in both sheer beauty and the power of its message... Faces of Promise - Looking Beyond Autism will move you and fill you with a deep appreciation for what is uniquely human in us all.”
Robert M. Bilder, PhD, ABPP-CN - Tennenbaum Family Professor of Psychiatry & Biobehavioral Sciences and Psychology at UCLA

“...the gorgeous photos and moving text of this masterwork epitomize the underlying humanity of these youth, and their families.”
Stephen Hinshaw, PhD - Professor of Psychology, UC Berkeley; Professor of Psychiatry, UC San Francisco

“Barbara Firestone and Richard Ehrlich have created an important contribution of heart and compassion that presents a uniquely authentic voice to those with autism and their families.”
Robert E. Accordino, MD - US Founder Music For Autism - Chief of Psychiatry & Behavioral Health at CareMore Health

“My husband and I are so touched that Barbara Firestone sees in our children the very elements we hope everyone will see in them, as does Richard Ehrlich in his soulful portraits.”
Hilary Kip - Parent

“...it is in the artistic presentation of this book that we are given an invitation to truly see these children, to feel them and experience their beauty.”
Malissa Feruzzi Shriver - Executive Director, Turnaround Arts California

“Providing hope is key. Have a look, and prepare to be inspired.”
Gary Cole - Actor, Autism Advocate & Parent
This holiday season, for the 15th year, The Coffee Bean & Tea Leaf® generously supported The Help Group’s efforts on behalf of children with special needs through their Make Spirits Bright campaign.

For every purchase of a one pound bag of Holiday Blend Coffee, Holiday Blend Coffee sold in single-serve capsules, a Winter Dream Tea® tin, and Winter Dream Tea® sold in single-serve capsules, The Coffee Bean donated $1 to The Help Group. This wonderful holiday program ran from November 27th to December 31st.

Starting on December 18th, patrons were given the opportunity to select and sign seasonal wall decorations and make a $1 or $5 donation to support The Help Group. These personally inscribed decorations adorned the walls of each store, and one-hundred percent of all donations went directly to The Help Group. The holiday campaign filled The Coffee Bean and Tea Leaf® stores with cheer.

“The Help Group is most grateful to The Coffee Bean & Tea Leaf® for its ongoing commitment to our efforts on behalf of children with special needs and their families. These holiday campaigns demonstrate the true spirit of the season,” said Dr. Barbara Firestone.
HULU VOLUNTEERS BEAUTIFY THE CULVER CITY CAMPUS

The Help Group was delighted to welcome volunteers from Hulu’s Give Back Program to our Culver City campus this summer.

Hulu employees, known as “Hulugans,” graciously spent their Saturday beautifying The Help Group Culver City campus. They did an array of projects that included planting flowers, building and painting new lunch tables, assembling portable libraries and more.

The mission of Hulu’s Give Back program is to offer service, support innovative programs, provide inspiration to youth in local communities through mentorship and STEAM education advocacy. Hulu believes their identity should not only be their digital footprint, but what they do after they shut down their computers. To help facilitate projects on Saturday, Hulu was aided by L.A. Works – a nonprofit, volunteer action center that creates and implements hands-on community service projects.

Julie Steele, Manager of Internal Communications and Corporate Social Responsibility at Hulu, remarked, “Thank you to everyone at The Help Group and L.A. Works for coordinating such a meaningful day of service for our Hulugans. It is a privilege to give back to an organization that makes such a positive impact on our community and touches the lives of so many. We hope that, in some small way, we’ve made the school year a little brighter for your students, faculty and staff. We wish everyone at The Help Group the very best as you embark on the coming school year.”

“The 30 Hulu volunteers were fantastic on Saturday! With their enthusiasm and hard work, they really brightened the campus for the kids returning to school the following Monday.” said Dr. Barbara Firestone.

HULU VOLUNTEERS BEAUTIFY THE CULVER CITY CAMPUS
On Friday, October 13th and Saturday, October 14th at the Skirball Cultural Center in Los Angeles, The Help Group’s Summit convened nearly 500 guests and 25 leading experts at the forefront of their fields in autism, learning disabilities, and ADHD and presented cutting edge research and evidence-based best practices. To kick off the Summit, Dr. Barbara Firestone welcomed guests, acknowledged distinguished presenters, and recognized the conference sponsors: NBC4, LA Parent, First 5 California, and First 5 LA.

Dr. Firestone served as Summit Chair with Co-Chairs Dr. Peter Whybrow, Director of UCLA’s Semel Institute, and Dr. Robert M. Bilder, Chief of Medical Psychology and Neuropsychology and Director of the Tennenbaum Center for the Biology of Creativity at UCLA’s Semel Institute.

The Summit featured 21 sessions, including keynote presentations from Dr. Lonnie Zwaigenbaum on Pushing the Boundaries of Early Diagnosis of Autism; from Dr. Stephen Hinshaw on The Latest ADHD Findings - Especially in Girls and Women and insights from his latest book Another Kind of Madness: A Journey Through the Stigma and Hope of Mental Illness; and from Dr. Jack Fletcher on Understanding Dyslexia and Its Implications for Identification and Treatment. John Elder Robison gave a thought-provoking special presentation entitled Life with Autism: A Different Perspective, and followed his talk with a workshop entitled The Challenge and Opportunity of Neurodiversity: A Community Approach.

At the luncheon proceedings Dr. Firestone, joined by Co-Chair Dr. Bilder, reflected on the history of Summit. The conference is dedicated to the memory of Dr. Paul Satz,
SUMMIT 2017 brings together leaders in their field and recognizes Raytheon, who established it 21 years ago with Dr. Firestone. Dr. Bilder remarked, “At the UCLA Semel Institute, Dr. Whybrow and myself take great pride in the Summit and in our innovative partnerships with The Help Group, and look forward to many more productive years.”

Dr. Bilder also took an opportunity to announce the recent publication of Faces of Promise: Looking Beyond Autism, and said, “It is a remarkable collaboration between fine art photographer and physician Dr. Richard Ehrlich, who has a gift for capturing profound emotion in visual images, and Dr. Firestone, who has been a true champion of children with autism and their families.”

Dr. Susan Berman, Help Group COO, presented The Help Group’s Champion For Children Award to Raytheon in appreciation of its ongoing commitment to STEM education and diversity.

“Raytheon has provided enriching opportunities, mentorships, and advanced technology for The Help Group’s STEM Academy – the first of its kind in the United States,” Dr. Berman shared, “We are most grateful to Raytheon for providing young people with the opportunity to excel in STEM related pursuits.”

Many thanks to our outstanding group of Summit presenters for sharing their important work and invaluable knowledge with us.
On Saturday, December 9th, The Help Group hosted its Holiday Carnival to make the season extra bright for hundreds of children and families served by The Help Group’s Family-Centered Support Programs, Mental Health & Clinical Programs and Residential Services.

Longtime Help Group supporter Hasbro continued its tradition of donating toys and games to the Carnival so that every child could take home a wrapped present. Young people from the Kids Like Me club l.a. program and Advance LA helped pass out presents to all the children attending the Carnival. The major sponsors of the day included The Zenith, Hasbro, Firestone Family, Monkarsh Family, Nu Color Printing, and The Coffee Bean & Tea Leaf® who served holiday beverages.

The Help Group’s Sherman Oaks campus was transformed into a winter wonderland wherein guests enjoyed a joyful afternoon of games, rides, food, arts and crafts, face painting, and an unforgettable visit with Santa Claus. This annual holiday event benefits families from economically disadvantaged circumstances.

“The Holiday Carnival is truly a special time for all the families served by The Help Group. Our heartfelt thanks to the sponsors and over 100 volunteers who made this day so wonderful for the children and their families,” said Dr. Barbara Firestone.
On Saturday, November 4th, The Help Group’s STEM³ Academy held its second annual Very Special Innovation Fair, equal parts science fair, high-tech exhibition, art show, and community carnival, at the STEM³ Academy Valley Glen campus.

The free event was a family-friendly celebration of talent, imagination, and discovery from young STEM enthusiasts, as well as some of the region’s innovative companies. This year’s event drew a big crowd – with 500+ in attendance.

Inspired in part by the Maker Movement, the event had specific areas geared toward grade school, middle school, and high school ages and interests. In each area, there were interactive opportunities for young people and families to build things, get involved in experiments and demonstrations, and take various gadgets for a ‘test drive.’

The Very Special Innovation Fair allowed hundreds of attendees to have a first-person experience in a range of STEM-related fields, including rocketry, robotics, 3D printing and production, virtual reality, and others.

STEM³ Academy hosted the fair to help people learn about the exciting things happening in STEM and how it’s playing an increasing role in fields as diverse as manufacturing, medicine, design, and entertainment, among others.

According to Dr. Susan Berman, COO of The Help Group, “We’re focused on developing strategies and fun programming for young people that encourage a passion for STEM. Our first Very Special Innovation Fair proved successful. It’s a chance to show the community what is happening in STEM and how our young people can prepare to take these areas to an exciting new level in the future.”
